1. Approximately four self-propelled guns were seen on 28 April 1952 at Eisenstadt, two of which bore the numbers 404 and 412 on the turrets. The guns, with muzzle brake, caliber approximately 7 cm., were approximately five feet long. Two men were standing upright in the turret. Six bogie wheels and two driving sprockets were counted. The caterpillars had no rubber blocks. The treads were approximately eight inches broad and had a profile as shown in the sketch below:

2. On 9 May 1952, two six-wheeled trucks
